

GET A GOOD BITCH

to speak at your event

There's nothing worse than hiring a speaker for your event, and seeing everyone glazing over. That's why you need a Good Bitch on board. Whether it's for a team building event, corporate conference, or you just need an inspirational speaker to hit that sweet spot, then you've come to the right place.

SPEAKER PROFILE

Nic Murray and Marie Fitzpatrick are on a mission to make Aotearoa the kindest place on earth. They founded Good Bitches Baking over a few cheeky wines and a download on the sad state of the world.

What started out as a way to unwind after a day's work, accidentally turned into a national charity and movement for kindness. Since 2014, Good Bitches Baking has provided nearly 800,000 acts of kindness to Kiwis in need. In the 2020 Kiwibank New Zealander of the Year awards, GBB was awarded the Mitre 10 Community of the Year Award.

Nic and Marie are the perfect duo to get your audience laughing, crying, and reflecting on how everyone can add a little sweetness to someone's day. They'll inspire and engage you, and if you're up for it, throw a challenge or two your way.

HOW TO GET A GOOD BITCH AT YOUR GIG

So now you've chosen to hear from us at your event, it's over to you to make another decision – do you want the double act or a solo sister?

Drop us a line at hq@gbb.org.nz and we'll be in touch.

WHAT OTHERS HAVE TO SAY

Loved the Good Bitches Baking story and their underlying ethos, it speaks to the heart of everything and something we all need - kindness. Definitely one of the most impactful presentations I've ever heard and it's amazing how an idea over a couple of glasses of wine can flourish into a powerful movement.

Alison Buck
Chartered Accountants Australia and New Zealand,
Women in Business conference organiser

So fabulously inspiring! Thanks for making such a great idea a reality and spreading kindness. It's something there needs to be more of. GREAT talk.

TEDx Wellington audience member

We were delighted to have Nic Murray speak to us as part of our Women at Bell Gully lunchbox series, and enjoyed hearing about how a small idea between friends has evolved into the major charitable organisation it is today. Nic was engaging and inspiring. That a few people doing what they love to do – baking! – can make such a difference to others having a tough time was a message that really struck a chord with our staff.

Jenny Stevens, Partner, Bell Gully

Making Aotearoa the kindest place on earth, one speech at a time...

